FOREWORD ___ Everyone has his own special dream, his own important goal in life. It may be a profession, a title, or plain fun. No matter what it is, though, it takes at least a good part of a person's life to reach it, for many obstacles must be overcome first. For some, the summit of their mourtain will be reached in June when they graduate from high school. For others, graduation is only one peak, with many more mountains ahead. But in either case, graduation will have signified twelve years of the greatest aid anyone can get in his search for the dream that will last as long as he lives.

HERBERT J. WORBOYS
Supervising Peincipal

Mr. Worboys, the class of 1965 will always be grateful for the aid you have given us in searching for our lives' dreams. We realize that you were striving even before we started school to provide every one of us with an education which would help him to climb every mountain. All during our journey through school you were working at this constantly. You not only worked for us, you worked with us, finding time and concern for any one of us who came to you with a problem or request. As a token of our appreciation and a memento of your thirty-seven years of service, we dedicate the 1965 Hornet to you.

find your dream" -

SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

The work and responsibility involved in the position of Supervising Principal is tremendous and little realized by most students. Generally, he is responsible for the co-ordination of the school and its many aspects—the Board of Education, the personnel, the management, the students and parents, and the general public. When an educational problem or need arises in school, the Supervising Principal not only acquaints the Board of Education with it, but works hard to find a solution himself. When the Board makes a decision or policy, he is responsible for carrying it out and making it effective. He is constantly working on plans for the advancement of the whole educational program, keeping aware of the latest ideas in modern education. Working with his staff, he develops a program for the selection of teachers who will give students the full advantage of their subjects. Not the least of his duties is to keep close contact with pupils and their parents, and promote good relations among students, personnel, and public.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Members of the Board of Education give valuable time and effort to see that our school system is efficient and up to date and that it provides students with the greatest possible benefits in education. The Board of Education meets once a month to discuss modern methods of education, student-teacher relationships, school policies, and problems which have arisen. Behind each meeting is a month of research and thought.

SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

Expanding knowledge has increased our information about space, brought the world to our doors, made neighbors of all races, stamped out diseases, and explored deeply the human mind. However, this knowledge has not solved many complex social, political, and economic problems which have become more complex by the very nature of such information.

Three qualities are greatly needed in America today which are possible in some degree for everyone who will strive to deliver them. One of these is wisdom which is the ability to judge soundly and deal sagaciously with facts and especially as they relate to life and conduct; another is character which is that moral vigor which is acquired through self discipline; and the other is courage which makes it possible for one to be wise and just.

I challenge every member of the Class of 1965 to live a full, satisfying and rewarding life by striving always to develop and use his character, wisdom and courage in solving his personal problems and the problems of his community.

Mr. Herbert I. Worboys

On behalf of the faculty and staff of Honeoye Falls Central School, I am proud to have the honor to congratulate you, the members of the Class of 1965, for the achievement of another milestone in your lives. Also I should remind you that this goal of commencement was reached, as all other goals will be attained, by effort not alone yours. Your parents and teachers have assisted and guided you through more trying times than you yet realize. Congratulations and many thanks go to them

Best wishes for success, graduates

The theme of our Junior Prom, the beautiful Apple Biossom Time," was perfect for May. Throughout the cold months of early spring we were busy painting murals, creating the wishing well, growing sweet potato vines, and making the apple blossoms petal by petal. Time marched on and soon it was April We were caught by the spell of mild, colorful spring and worked with greater ambition as the days flew by. The big day arrived. All day the gym swarmed with Juniors and paper littered the floor. Suddenly it wasn't a gym—it was an enchanting garden of pink and white flowers on the trees offset by multicolored flowers dancing beneath them. The most bewitched blossom of all was Carol Hoh, the lovely Prom Queen

Senior Play 1964

Our Fabulous Director MRS ANN C. HICKS

The Family Nobody Wanted' deals will tender, poignant, true story of the Doss family. The children in the family confront a problem which is the story of the day—that of prejudice against people of the erent' backgrounds. Their thoughts, wants and needs are the same as those of any adolescent but their heritages are mixed. The play presents the story lightly, with the humor that touches every family, yet with the solemnity which provokes deep thought. Our cast and crew did a tremendous job and when the curtain descended, the applicate indicated that the audience had adopted "The Family Nobody Wante"

STUDENT COUNCIL

This September the Student Council sponsored a pep rally in order to whip up spirits in support of sports activities. The snake dance, bonfire, cheers, refreshments and films of last year's sports proved a huge success. In this year's magazine campaign, the Student Council saw the sales rise well over the quota. This assured the Student Council and the student body of enjoying the friendship of an exchange student, under the A. F. S. program, another year Other projects this year were the Donkey Basketball game, Student Teacher Day, and the formulation of a central fund to finance a bulletin board. These have been as successful as the pep rally and the magazine campaign.

HONOR SOCIETY

Every spring and fall the National Honor Society holds its inductions. At the traditional candle-lighting ceremony worthy Students are selected for membership. When they take the solemn pledge they promise to uphold the club's ideals of scholarship, leadership, character and service

As the funds from their daily candy sales rise so do the spirits of the Senior members. The profits from these sales are used to pay the members' expenses on their annual trip to Washington, D.C. Their final goal, however, is to maintain their high ideals through high school and beyond.

MR ABITL And

The 1965 Hornet is a realized dream.

The 1965 HORNET has been an interesting and unforgettable experience for its staff members. It has helped us realize the value of team work and close co-operation, for without these there would be no Yearbook. Together we planned the HORNET, suggested ideas, discussed, and argued; and when a decision was made, we were sure that it was the best

We were especially grateful for Mr. Abeel's aid. Individually, each had his own special job, and put his heart into his work with his mind. We were rewarded when we saw that our divisions had come together to form our HORNET and that it was a Yearbook that the whole class could be proud of.

Often in the fall and spring, students stop their work to listen to the beating of drums and strains of music as the Junior or Senior Band marches by. The Junior Band, directed by Mr. McKerr and the Senior Band, directed by Mr. Percival, are composed of students who master one or more instruments. They entertain us at our spring and fall concerts and assemblies. This year the Senior Band also participated in an exchange program with Hilton High Schools band

GIRLS' CHOIR

Girls' Choir is a recently formed organization which is made up of eight girls especially interested in vocal music. With their accompanist, Jim Sensenbach they perform each year at the fall and spring concerts and often are asked to perform for various organizations in the community. The girls work hard, give a lot of time, and have a lot of fun

BOYS' CHOIR

The fun of singing" is the purpose of the Boys' Choir; and a gay time is had when the eight members meet with accompanist, Linda Amorese, to sing barbershop-quartet style. The boys select their own members by vote from outstanding members of the Senior Choir, and Mr. Abeel provides music and excellent advice

Special groups enjoy the fun

DANCE BAND

The eighteen members of the HI-LITES, our dance band, give an hour and a half of their free time each week to perfect their music for our enjoyment. The HI-LITES, specializing in big band music, entertain once a year at a dance which is attended by young and old alike and is always a huge success

The Hornets lost by 1-0 scores to Hilton and Pittsford and by a 2-1 margin to Churchville. Wins in these games would have made a great difference in league and overall standings. The J.V. Soccer Team finished a well fought season showing several fine prospects for future H. F. Soccer Teams. Returning soccer players look forward to strong teams next year.

Soccer players display fine form.
